Dawson Street

Entry is via a series of floor-to-ceiling Crittall-style doors that draw in light from the east-facing garden, illuminating the flexible and wonderfully private interior spaces on the ground floor. The apartment has been comprehensively renovated by its current owner, who has also incorporated a large skylight to accentuate the excellent levels of natural light. Clean, contemporary materials create a sense of tranquillity and flow throughout. The kitchen and living areas are largely open-plan and have been beautifully arranged for relaxed dining and entertaining. Warming tones of walnut panelling adorn one wall adding depth and texture to the palette and acting as sound insulation. In the kitchen, smart stainless steel units are topped with quartz and harmonise with bespoke walnut joinery. Poured resin flooring, equipped with underfloor heating, runs underfoot.

To the rear is a study drenched in westerly light care of a large window. A plethora of built-in cabinetry provides plenty of storage. Lime-washed timber flooring adds to an overall ambience of airiness and calm.

In the middle of the plan, located just off the hallway, is an elegant bathroom accessed via a Crittall-style pocket sliding door set with fluted glass. Carrara marble has been employed across the basin, walls and floors of this room, and fittings are by Hansgrohe in a brushed-black chrome finish.

A bespoke staircase leads to the lower-ground floor, currently used as a bedroom. The raw brushed steel balustrade has been finely crafted by a bespoke metalwork company based in Greenwich. The owner's desire to work with local craftsmen can be seen across this home, and much of the joinery is hand-made, including the bookcases, concealed storage, wardrobes and the aforementioned staircase.

A polished concrete floor had been laid and comes with underfloor heating.

Outdoor Space

The courtyard garden is entered through a small wooden gate revealing a tranquil oasis in the midst of a bustling city. The garden has been cultivated from Columbia Road flower market over many years and is well-developed. The garden's brick-walled perimeter consists of bee-friendly climbing English roses, Jasmine and Honeysuckle. Twisted Willow is used to dramatic effect, while Chinese foxglove and Wild Rosemary add a burst of colour and scent.

The Area

The apartment is conveniently located by a wide and exciting mix of restaurants, bars and galleries, including Lyle's, Rochelle Canteen, Shoreditch House, the Blue Mountain School and Victoria Miro Gallery.
