This two-bedroom duplex with large balcony is located on the iconic Alexandra & Ainsworth Estate in St John's Wood. Built between 1972-1978 to a design by the revered Modernist architect Neave Brown, the development has been given a rare Grade II* listing by English Heritage in recognition of its architectural significance.

The apartment is arranged over the top two floors of the building, and entered on the fourth floor. The downstairs contains two bedrooms and a family bathroom, whilst upstairs is a fantastic open-plan reception / dining / kitchen area, looking south over Rowley Way towards the newly developed communal areas. Sliding doors open on to a large, south-facing balcony.

This flat has been sensitively restored by the current owner. The best original features have been retained, including the kitchen, the timber staircase and wonderful glazed timber-framed sliding doors to the balcony.
